

Starcon Double Headed Spherical Anchor

Product information

The Starcon double headed spherical anchor is designed for concrete pouring with a sturdy foot for secure anchoring and a cylindrical head that easily connects with a Starcon lifting eye. It is ideal for applications where the recess moulder remains attached to the reinforcement, such as face-up floor and deck elements, overhead supply pipes and stair installations.

The anchor is also suitable for concrete products that are to be repeatedly produced in the same design and where semi-automatic anchor machines are used for assembly in the mould. This makes it timesaving to insert the anchor into either the mounted form or into the semi-automatic anchor machine.
